

Every Two Minutes

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; quicker and more direct benefits. To get the greatest amount of good with the least possible effort is the desire of everyone in poor health. Scott's Emulsion does just that. A change for the better takes place even before you expect it.

We will send you a sample free. Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy. SCOTT & BOWNE Chemists 409 Pearl St., N. Y. 30 cents and $1.00 All druggists

Harry Hawes' Speech.

In making a recommendation to the presidency of the Jefferson Club last week Harry B. Hawes made a speech which ought to be read in its entirety by every voter in the State. A few brief extracts are given below:

There have been many changes during the twelve years. Men have taken an active interest for a year or two and then lost that interest and quit politics. But few have stuck steadily to the organization since its beginning. Newspaper abuse yearly drives from an active participation in politics some of our best citizens. A man starts in to do his duty as a good citizen and probably in the first campaign little attention is paid to him. In the next campaign political paper of the opposition commence to call him a politician. In his third campaign he is dubbed a ringster and every political which the majority of smart newspaper men can devise to annoy and humiliate him into dropping out of active politics.

To win one must make enemies, so that we find, as a rule, many good men are kept from taking an active interest in political affairs because they fear its injury to their business, to their social standing or to their private comfort.

When I went into office as president of the Jefferson Club there was not a Democratic officeholder in the city of St. Louis except a few members of the House of Delegates. Nearly every public office is now held by a Democrat, and the Democrats who have filled the positions to which they were elected and the Democrats who are now holding official positions have given to the city of St. Louis service which defies the criticism of the most bitterly partisan Republican.

This has been a splendid reward to me for the part I have played in bringing about these results. Whatever comes to me politically or whether I ever engage actively again in politics as a candidate for office or in a managing capacity upon some of my party's committees, I will look back upon the last few years of my life with great pleasure and with some pride.

No organization can last if it has officers who take a narrow or con-trailed view of the metropolitan life of a large city. St. Louis is growing wonderfully. Its people do not all think alike or have the same views of good government or those things which make people happy. I have always believed that the man who takes an active interest in his party in a downtown ward was entitled to consideration just the same as a man who lived in the aristocratic West End.

Practical politics requires the recognition of all classes. Good government can only be secured through practical politics. The reformer whose enthusiasm exhausts itself in six months never accomplishes any lasting reform. The man who jumps into the center of a political fight without the knowledge of what has gone before or a personal acquaintance with the capacities and abilities of the men around him is as helpless as a child.

Butlerism in St. Louis stands for an idea so well defined that it needs no definition from me. In the spring campaign which is coming on, Butler's identity with any ticket nominated by the democratic party means the sure defeat to that ticket. Butler's opposition to the democratic ticket will not lose it 500 votes, but will bring to it 10,000 independent voters, who want an opportunity to punish the tribe of Butler and Ziegenheim.

As a matter of purely practical politics, no better political asset can be given to any candidate for public office in the spring than the opposition of the Butlers, provided the public is truly informed of their opposition. On the other hand, no heavier load can be carried by a candidate for public office than to have the avowed friendship and support of the Butler faction. The party cannot win in the spring if it temporizes, compromises on conciliates the political pirates who scouted the democratic ship in the last election.

Personally, I have no political ambitions for the future. I desire nothing at the hands of Mayor Wells or the incoming governor, Joseph W. Folk. I am asking nothing of either one of them, excepting that I expect and believe that Mr. Folk will appoint men to office, who will assist, so far as propriety admits, in the work of maintaining this organization and the splendid record of civic improvement which it has brought about.

In Memoriam.

John M. Shelby was born in Lexington, Missouri, January 17, 1884. When he was six years old he was stricken with paralysis from the effects of measles. Since that time he had been without use of his lower limbs. In his younger years he was pretty active on crutches. He followed farming and trading in stock quite a good deal. He loved a good horse and always had one. He could place one hand on his crutch and the other on the saddle horn and lift himself into the saddle on the back of a sixteen hand horse. He was a man of energy and determination, well read and a good interesting conversationalist on the general topics of the day. He lived a lonely life of late years but was always cheerful, never complaining of his afflictions. He was the son of the late Joseph B. Shelby, a nephew of Thomas Shelby of this city. He lived all his life in Lafayette county with the exception of a few years he spent in Barton county, this state. After three or four weeks of suffering and patience he departed this life in Dover, January 6, 1905, nearly sixty-one years old. He leaves to mourn his loss, two sisters and one brother; Mrs. Joseph G. Chinn, Mrs. Mary A. Gordon, wife of Geo. B. Gordon of this city, and Isaac N. Shelby of Wright county, Missouri, besides many relatives who thought a great deal of him. He is now at rest in the Beyond. G. B. G.

A FAMILY SAFEGUARD

Dr. Green arranges with the Niece of Dr. Boesche to handle her famous Uncle's Great Throat and Lung Cure.

The best family safeguard is a reliable household medicine that will cure croup, coughs, colds, chilly sensations, running eyes and nose, sore throat and bronchial affections—that will keep the children proof against all contagious diseases. Such a medicine is Boesche's German Syrup, which has a record of 35 years in the cure of consumption, catarrh and all lung and bronchial troubles. The fame of German Syrup as a consumptive cure, since its purchase by Dr. Green from the niece of the famous Dr. Boesche, has extended to all parts of the earth. It has big sales everywhere. Two sizes, 50c and 75c. All druggists.

Kroencke-Walkenhorst.

Concordian: Mr. Arthur J. Kroencke, a rising young business man of this city, and Miss Leona K. Walkenhorst, accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Walkenhorst, were married on Christmas Evening, December 25 1904, at six o'clock at the Evangelical Bethel church.

A reception was given the many invited guests at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony. After an elegant supper had been partaken of, the invited guests amused themselves until the wee sma' hours in the morning.

Miss Agnes Westley 616 Wells Street Marinette, Wis.

616 Wells Street, MARINETTE, WIS., Sept. 25, 1903.

I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your Wine of Cardui was recommended as such a good medicine for the ills of our sex, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, and took three more and then found I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine tonic and excellent for worn-out, nervous condition, and am pleased to endorse it.

WINE OF CARDUI

Hickman-Gossett. Independence Sentinel: The first victims of Cupid this bright New Year in Independence were Mr. Joel Harris Hickman and Miss Willey Jameson Gossett who were married at 7:30 last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matthias Gossett, on South Main street. Only relatives and intimate friends of the family were present. "O, Promise Me" was sung by Dr. Glibbreath. Miss Cecil Reid, accompanied on the violin by Mr. Howard Payne, then played the Lohengrin march and the betrothed couple were married by Rev. Marshall. The home was prettily decorated in holly and evergreen. The ceremony was performed in front of a handsome curtain of holly.

After the wedding supper the newly married couple departed for the Hickman ranch near Coates, Kansas, where they will make their future home.

Both are members of old and popular families throughout this part of the state and both have a host of friends to congratulate them and wish them the rosiest possible pathway through life. Mr. Hickman is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Z. Hickman, formerly of this city, and a brother of Lieutenant E. A. Hickman of Westworth Military Academy.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

"DeWitt's is the only Witch Hazel Salve" writes J. L. Tucker, of Centre, Ala. "I have used it in my family for piles, cuts and burns for years and can recommend it to be the best Salve on the market. Every family should keep it, as it is an invaluable household remedy, and should always be kept on hand for immediate use." Mrs. Samuel Gage, of North Bush, New York, says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures without leaving a scar. Sold by Crenshaw & Young, Druggists.

New York No Place For Writers.

Of all the cities in the world New York has the reputation of being the least satisfactory for literary labor. A canvass of the writers of the day revealed the fact that not more than half-a-dozen, and those by no means leaders, did their work in New York. The case of Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, author of "In the Closed Room," is a typical one. Mrs. Burnett has a country home in Kent, England, but three years ago returned to America and tried to take up her residence in New York. The rush and hurry, the noise and clutter, and the thousand demands, social and otherwise, made upon her by the city rendered it impossible for her to work; and it was only when she took a summer cottage on Long Island that she was able to get anything done. The second year her attempt at New York life was even more disastrous, and her little story, "In the Closed Room," could not be written at all in New York, although New York life had inspired it, and it was not finished until Mrs. Burnett again took refuge in Long Island. Almost any author who has tried New York life could tell the same story.

Confirmed Crum's Appointment.

The nomination of W. D. Crum, a negro, to be Collector of Customs for the Port of Charleston, S. C., was confirmed by the Senate in executive session last week by a vote of 33 to 17.

Crum had been nominated by the President three times, and had received three recess appointments. He is now serving under the last of these recess appointments.

Senator Tillman made a speech devoted almost entirely to the question of the constitutional right of the President to make a recess appointment, when no actual recess had occurred, the Senate having adjourned one session, and begun another at noon of the same day.

To Thin People

Let us advise you to take Vinol. The reason it is the best strength and flesh creator is because it actually contains all the medicinal elements taken from genuine fresh Cods' Livers, without oil or grease. These combined with organic iron and other body building ingredients create the greatest flesh, strength and tissue builder known to medicine. Try it on our guarantee. Respectfully,
